250,000 Books at your finger tips

The changing face of the twenty-first century library - Using Internet technology to bring library resources from around the world to their patrons

The World eBook Library website includes hyperlinks to over 250,000 works of literature, in many languages, i.e., Japanese, Mandarin, Cantonese, French, Spanish, Russian, Italian, German, etc. In our archives you will find many of the classic works by the greatest authors of history, from the early Greek philosophers and story tellers, such as Plato, Aristotle, and Homer to the great playwrights, such as Christopher Marlowe and William Shakespeare, as well as British romantic poets, like William Wordsworth, John Keats, Lord Byron, and Percy Shelley, plus American writers up to 1923, such as Nathaniel Hawthorn, Herman Melville, Edgar Allen Poe, Jack London. Although the primary focus of our archived collection is text files, we also provide images, maps, and photographs (such as LandSat satellite photographs of the earth), selected pieces of great music such as Beethoven's Fifth Symphony (in Stereo), and video recordings of notable, historic events such as the Apollo 11 Lunar Landing.
